

Clinicalskills.net is a set of illustrated clinical skills guidelines with information on over 280 procedures. All procedures featured on Clinicalskills.net are written by specialist authors and editors and are evidence-based and double-blind peer reviewed with click-through links to national guidance and other published papers.

I have been using Clinical Skills.net as an aid to train medical students for many years and have found it an excellent resource; providing clear clinical guidelines with the use of illustrations to aid practice.

Annette Eason, Clinical Skills Facilitator, Royal United Hospitals Bath

Click here to access

All clinical staff at the RUH have been registered with a free account.

To activate your account please click here

Enter your NHS email address and in the password field: Somerset1

You will then be required to set up a new password and log in.

If you are a new member of staff your personal account may take a few weeks to set up but you can access ClinicalSkills.net via the library pages from within the Trust here.

If you experience any problems setting up your account or wish to transfer an existing account, please contact the library team: ruh-tr.library@nhs.net