PRESS RELEASE

Following the termination of the contract between the NHS and Fujitsu, and subsequent meetings between the Trust, Fujitsu, Cerner and Connecting for Health, the assessment of the RUH Trust Board was that it did not have sufficient confidence in the level of support that it would receive from the suppliers, at and beyond the go-live period, to proceed with the implementation of Millennium.

The Trust remains firmly committed to the aims and objectives of the National Programme for IT and intends to replace its existing patient administration system, in line with the Programme, as soon as it is able to do so.
