RUH showcases its range of career opportunities

Young people from schools across Bath and the surrounding area visited the Royal United Hospitals Bath NHS Foundation Trust this week to check out the range of career opportunities available at the hospital.

The careers fair gave students the opportunity to meet staff from across the Trust to find out more about working at the RUH and the variety of different jobs available in the NHS.

Teams from across the hospital were represented at the event, including apprenticeships, aseptic services, audiology, pharmacy, maternity, medical physics & bioengineering, nursing, oral and maxillofacial, pathology, radiology, research and development, speech & language, therapies and vascular studies.

Hugh McKinney, RUH Learning and Development Lead, said: “Our annual careers fair is always a really popular event when we welcome hundreds of local young people to the RUH to find out more about the wide range of roles available at the hospital.

“Lots of different teams from across the hospital were on hand to talk about their work and answer questions about working at the RUH and in healthcare.

“As one of the biggest employers in the local area, events like these help us to continue to build on our links with the people in our community while showcasing the incredible variety of career options available at the RUH.”

The RUH has a dedicated Career Zone in its Atrium, where people can drop in anytime to find out more about working at the hospital and the different roles available.

Notes to Editor:

At the RUH we're proud to put people at the heart of what we do, striving to create an environment where everyone matters. Everyone means the people we care for, the people we work with and the people in our community.

We provide a wide range of services including medicine and surgery, services for women and children, accident and emergency services, and diagnostic and clinical support services.

We also provide specialist services for rheumatology, chronic pain and chronic fatigue syndrome/ME via the Royal National Hospital for Rheumatic Diseases which we acquired in 2015.

In 2021, we acquired Sulis Hospital Bath, an independent hospital that provides care for both private and NHS patients. This has enabled us to provide more care for NHS patients, as well as continuing to provide private care to those who choose it. Any additional income earned through private care is reinvested in services for the benefit of the people we care for at both Sulis and the RUH.

We're currently building a new Cancer Centre at the RUH. The Dyson Cancer Centre, which is set to open in spring 2024, will help transform the care we provide for patients, families and carers.

We work closely with other health and care organisations as members of the Bath and North East Somerset, Swindon and Wiltshire Integrated Care Board. We strive to improve the health and wellbeing of the people in our community by working together build one of the healthiest places to live and work.

We are rated 'Good' by the Care Quality Commission (CQC).
