

Rechargeable hearing aids

This is how your hearing aids should look when they are in the charger correctly

When the charger is plugged in and working, a green light will come on at the back, beside the cable

When the hearing aids are charging a light will flash, this might be red, amber or green – any flashing colour means the aid is charging

